DOCUMENT No. 21.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN,

DECEMBER 27, 1858.

The following report of the Joint Committee on Accounts, in relation to the Accounts of Collectors of Assessments, was received, laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

D. T. VALENTINE, Clerk.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

The Joint Committee on Accounts, in continuation of their labors from the date of their last report, have completed, so far as the books and papers within their control will permit, the auditing of the accounts of collectors of assessments, for the years 1853, 1854 and 1855, being the official term of Isaac Edwards and his deputies, and the results of that auditing are now submitted to your Honorable Body, together with a full and complete statement of the account of Joseph R. Taylor, Collector, with his deputies, for the years 1856, 1857, and to the 1st of May, 1858.

Herewith are submitted the books and statements prepared in writing up and auditing the account of Isaac Edwards, Collector, and his deputies, consisting of:

1st. A balance sheet, showing the amounts of the assessment lists placed in his hands for collection, the amounts paid thereon to the Chamberlain, and the amounts of items appearing upon the records, as unpaid, together with the balances, as they appeared upon the books previous to their correction.

2d. A detailed statement of the various corrections, consisting, for the most part, of payments into treasury for assessments not discharged of record; of sums paid to collectors, not paid into treasury, and not discharged of record, and of assessments not discharged of record, and not included in collector's returns to the Bureau of Arrears.

3d. A balance sheet, showing the amount of assessments placed in the hands of each deputy collector, the amounts paid into treasury thereon, and the balances as they stand, after the correction of errors.

4th. Eight return books, containing transcripts of the assessments standing as unpaid on the records.

5th. The journal and ledgers, prepared by direction of the Committee, showing the amount of each assessment list, the amount paid into treasury thereon, the amount of return to Bureau of Arrears, made out by the Committee, and the entries in correction of errors.

These balance sheets, statements and books, furnish the following results:

Deficiency of Isaac Edwards and deputies..	$44,783 69

This deficiency is on sums of principal alone, the interest not having been computed.

The absence of certain books, which are indispensable, for determining the state of the deputy collectors' accounts with the head collector, prevents your Committee from deciding who should be held responsible for the above stated deficiencies. They deem it proper to say, that so far as the examinations afford any indications, on this point, they do not favor the supposition that Mr. Edwards is the party at fault. Furthermore, the deputies of Mr. Edwards admit having retained certain sums, under advice of counsel, which they claim to be due them from the city, for fees on uncollected assessments.

In addition to the examinations and labors required for the full presentation of the foregoing account, your Committee have to report progress in auditing the account of Joseph R. Taylor, Collector, and his deputies.

The returns of unpaid items, making several books, similar to those presented with this report, are nearly ready. A ledger account has been opened with each assessment list placed in his hands for collection; the payments by the deputies to the collector, and by the collector to the Chamberlain, have been examined, and, in the regular and methodical prosecution of our work, a full and final auditing of these accounts will show a correct abstract of the state of each assessment list.

Our examination shows:

The total payments by Horatio N. Sherwood, Deputy, to Joseph R. Taylor, Collector, as per receipts, to be..... $886,923 00

Carried forward..... $886,923 00

Brought forward.....	$886,923 00
The total payments by Walter Oakley, Deputy, to Joseph R. Taylor, Collector, as per receipts, to be.....	546,554 34
The total payments by Ira A. Libby, Deputy, to Joseph R. Taylor, Collector, as per receipts, to be.....	628,368 78
Total of payments by deputies to collector.	$2,061,846 12
Amount paid to Chamberlain by Collector Taylor:
On Deputy Sherwood's list .....	$830,620 63
Do Oakley's do .....	509,958 32
Do Libby's do .....	574,083 38
	1,914,662 33
Balance, (being the deficiency of Joseph R. Taylor, Collector,).....	$147,183 79

The auditing of the accounts of the Collectors of Assessments, is not only required for determining the state of those officers' accounts with the city, but is a necessary preliminary in making up the account of the Clerk of Arrears.

That official's account is now an anomaly: there being no proper charge against him on the books of the Finance Department, for the sums returned to the Bureau of Arrears, for unpaid assessments.

Your Committee feeling the importance of bringing this account into a proper shape, on the books of the Finance Department, and in order that the Clerk of Arrears may have an authentic record of all the items which will go to make up the debit side of his account, have caused return books to be prepared, showing every item appearing upon the records of assessments, as unpaid.

The aggregate of these returns, prior to January 1st, 1853, is..... $195,831 52

The aggregate from January 1st, 1853, to January 1st, 1856..... 1,444,498 91

$1,640,330 43

When the returns on assessments, placed in hands of Collector Taylor, are completed, the account of the Clerk of Arrears will be duly charged with them, in addition to the foregoing amounts.

On the credit side of his account, will be placed those sums, which although not discharged of record, have been ascertained to be properly chargeable to the collectors, which also appear in detail in our statements of these collectors' accounts; also the amounts collected by the Clerk of Arrears and paid into the treasury. The balance will then show the amount for which the Clerk of Arrears is held responsible, and should correspond with the amount of returned assessments remaining unpaid; these constituting his offset to the debit balance of his account.

The Clerk of Arrears has repeatedly expressed his satisfaction, that this account is in course of preparation, and with the method adopted by the Committee's accountants. (Mr. Purdy is very earnest in the expression of his desire that his account may be thoroughly scrutinized and finally audited by your Committee.)

In presenting this report, your Committee believe it due to the Common Council, and to the public, who regard their proceedings with unusual interest, that they should state briefly, what remains to be accomplished. Besides the work necessary to finish the accounts of Collector Taylor's deputies, and that of the Clerk of Arrears, as before explained, the very important duty remains of auditing the accounts of the Receiver of Taxes.

The amount of tax lists for 1853 was.....				$5,067,312 71
Do	do	do	1854 was.....	4,845,386 07
Do	do	do	1855 was.....	5,844,772 42
Do	do	do	1856 was.....	7,076,591 63
Do	do	do	1857 was.....	8,055,008 55
Total.....				$30,889,071 38

The accounts for this enormous sum have never been audited or examined, and the probability is, they will remain in their present state, unless they shall be audited by your Committee.

It is only necessary to state the fact, that the Finance Department holds about eight hundred acknowledgments of items of liens which have been paid, but which are included in the returns to Bureau of Arrears, as unpaid; to make manifest the impropriety of suffering these accounts to remain longer without a proper auditing. Delay will only increase the difficulties always encountered in the examination and adjustment of old accounts.

The accounts of the Collectors of City revenue have not yet received the attention of the Committee, as the work of examining the accounts of several bureaux simultaneously, cannot be carried on with advantage.

The Trust Accounts of the city have received only a partial examination; it has not been practicable to perform this part of the work assigned to the Committee, without too great interference with the work in hand. It is very desirable that these accounts should be correct exhibits of the expenditures and indebtedness they represent, and we design taking them up so soon as all the collectors' accounts shall be finished.

The current duties of the Finance Department, if properly performed, are sufficient to engage the attention and occupy the time of the Comptroller and the clerical force at his command.

The business of auditing the accounts of long past transactions, of writing up and correcting the old books, can, in the opinion of your Committee, be more accurately and acceptably performed by a special force of accountants, who shall be able to proceed thoroughly and uninterruptedly with the work, free from the delays and hindrances unavoidable with those who have their regular official duties to perform.

With the Committees' experience of the difficulties and impediments which are incident to this work, and with their knowledge of the extent and variety of the labors already entered upon, and proposed to be undertaken and prosecuted to their completion, they do not feel justified in naming a shorter period than one year for the performance of the work.

Should the work be now discontinued by the Joint Committee on Accounts, it is doubtful if it would be resumed at a future day, or under any other supervision, and carried on in a manner so satisfactory to the public, and so conveniently for the several departments, as at present.

With these remarks, your Committee submit the whole matter to the consideration of the Common Council. Should they decide to have the work continued, it is recommended that such amount as may be deemed sufficient for the purpose be put in the next tax levy.

The attention of the Common Council is requested to a discrepancy between the statement of the Committee in reference to the account with "Fourth avenue opening, from Thirty-fifth street to One hundred and thirty-eighth street," and the statement of the same account by the Comptroller, in his semi-annual report, dated September 1st, 1858. By his report the deficiency on this account appears to be $346 58, which is $3,151 less than the actual deficiency. A re-examination of this account, induced by the Comptroller's report, so largely at variance with our previously published statement, reveals errors on the part of those furnishing the data for his statement, confirming the opinion, already expressed, that the auditing and correction of the past accounts of the Finance Department should be continued as a special work.

There are several errors in the footings. The collector's return to the Bureau of Arrears is assumed to be correct, notwithstanding the gross inaccuracies which appear upon the face of it, and no comparison of the return with the records seems to have been made.

It is true the examinations and comparisons on so long a list of items as constitute this account are tedious and laborious, requiring considerable time and much care; but they are unavoidable, if a correct state of the account is to be arrived at.

These errors evince the superficial character of the examinations on which the Comptroller's statement is based.

In conclusion, your Committee deem it proper to state, that it may be in the power of the deputies of Mr. Edwards to explain certain discrepancies which have been discovered in their accounts. The deputies have often been invited, even solicited to examine the auditing of their accounts, and to give such explanations as they might desire, but they have not availed themselves of the privilege.

Your Committee recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That this report, with accompanying books and papers, be placed in the hands of the Comptroller, as a guide and reference in settling the accounts of the officers mentioned in this report.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF ALDERMEN,

DECEMBER 28, 1858.

---

The following Report of the Committee of Investigation on the City Hall Fire, together with the opinion of the Fire Marshal as to the origin of the fire, and the testimony taken by the Fire Marshal, were received, laid on the table, and ordered to be printed.

The Common Council, having referred to the undersigned the matter of investigating the origin of the fire at the City Hall, on the morning of the 18th August last, they beg leave respectfully to Report, that they have performed the duty assigned to them, and have taken the testimony of a number of witnesses, which is herewith submitted, with their conclusions thereon.

It was generally supposed that the fire was caused either from the burning candles used in the windows of the City Hall, for the illumination on the night preceding, or from the fire-works discharged from the roof at the same time, the remains of which retained fire, and lodged in some unperceived place on the roof, or in some of the attics of the building, and suddenly burst forth into flames.

The testimony clearly establishes, in the opinion of the undersigned, the fact, that the fire originated from the remains of the fire-works, and not from the illumination.

If the illumination were the cause, the fire must have originated in the attic rooms of the Hall, lying in front of the building, as no fire was discovered in the rear of the Hall, and rooms of the second story.

Not only the evidence of those who had charge of these attic rooms, and of the Superintendent and Deputy Superintendent of Repairs and Supplies, who visited them after the candles were extinguished, but the testimony of others, as well as the general appearance of the rooms after the conflagration had been extinguished, fully show that the fire did not originate here.

Mr. Vandervoort, who had the contract with Mr. Kelley to furnish the rockets and candles on the occasion of the illumination, and who superintended the lighting of the upper part of the Hall, stated that he saw the candles lighted, that they burned about an hour and a half; that he was about from room to room, to see that all possible care was taken; and that he went through the rooms as soon as the lights were extinguished, with Mr. Corlies, Mr. Richardson, and others; that he examined around each of the windows in these rooms, also the floors, and did not discover any indications of fire; and that this was about fifteen minutes after the termination of the illumination.

Mr. Burns, who lighted the candles in these attic rooms, also testified that he put out the lights in both rooms, took the pieces of candles from the sockets, but discovered no signs of fire about, except a smoke from the fire-works.

Mr. Corlies, Superintendent of Repairs and Supplies, also said, that at the conclusion of the fire-works, he went to the garret story of the main building; that he met there Mr. Carpenter and Mr. Vandervoort, and went through the different rooms together with a lantern; that the candles at the windows had been removed; the lights were all out, and every thing appeared to be perfectly safe.

And Mr. Richardson, the Deputy Superintendent, swore that while the illumination was going on, he went through nearly all the rooms in the Hall, particularly noticed the garret story of the main building, and that after the lights were extinguished, he went through all the rooms, and found every thing safe; the lights were out and all safe, as it appeared to him.

The evidence of the other witnesses who were connected with, or had charge of the illumination, and who, after it was over, visited those attic rooms, as well as other rooms in the building, was to the same effect.

From this it appears that every precaution and necessary care were used and taken by those having the charge and direction of the illumination, not only at the time the same was going on, but after it was over.

If the fire originated in the rooms alluded to, it must have been by the candles igniting the wood work of the sashes, or the casing of the windows, or from one or more burning candles falling on the floor, and then communicating with any loose and combustible material that may have laid there.

In the case of the two former events, the fire would certainly have occurred while the illumination was going on, and would then undoubtedly have been noticed by the thousands in the Park who were present on the occasion, if not by those in charge of the rooms. It would also most assuredly have been seen by those who afterwards visited them.

In case any of the burning candles had fallen on the floor, there was only the floor itself for them to communicate their fire to, for Mr. Mulligan, one of the members of the Committee on the Celebration, says in his testimony, that between seven and eight o'clock he went into the garret rooms; he told those lighting the candles to be very careful, as it looked unsafe, there being so many books on the shelves, and that he did not see any paper or books near the windows.

Not only the testimony, however, but the appearance of the rooms themselves, show conclusively that no fire was communicated to the floor, as no appearance of fire in the immediate vicinity of the windows on the floor is seen.

The undersigned, for the above reasons, and the testimony of the witnesses above mentioned, are of the opinion that the fire did not originate through the candles which burnt for the illumination. They need not, however, have undertaken to have shown this, for the testimony taken by them of the same and other individuals, points with a certainty that the fire originated on the roof of the hall and from the remains of the empty boxes and cases left after the fire-works had been set off. They deemed it, however, due to the inquiry, as well as just to those who had the care and direction of the illumination, that they should thus state the evidence upon this part of the investigation.

They have stated that, in their opinion, the cause of the fire was from the remains of the fire-works and the empty boxes and cases used for them, which were left on the roof.

To sustain this opinion, they need only, they are sure, bring forward the testimony taken, to satisfy all upon this point.

On this occasion there was an unusual quantity of fire-works displayed, so much so that Alderman Lynes said, that while on the roof, previous to the time for letting them off, some one remarked there were fire-works enough to burn down the City Hall; and Mr. Edge, who furnished the same, testifies that he suggested the precaution of having buckets of water, in case of a premature explosion, as on this occasion there were an unusual quantity of fire-works, which his foreman, Mr. Masten, stated, in speaking of two empty boxes which had contained batteries of Roman candles, that they were much larger than ever made by Mr. Edge before.

Mr. Edge, no doubt, in suggesting the precaution of having buckets of water at hand on the roof, evinced a proper care in view of the large and unusual quantity of fireworks which were about being started off. But although the water was furnished and used during and after the exhibition, still there were left on the roof the smouldering remains of the works which subsequently started into a conflagration that came near destroying the entire edifice.

Mr. Edge still further said, that the last piece was let off at about eight minutes to nine o'clock; that water was applied to the burning cases on the roof, and that after the discharge of all the works, the boxes and cases were all collected and placed together against the east and west chimneys, in front of the cupola on the main building—water was thrown upon them, and all the fire and sparks extinguished that were then visible.

Mr. Masten, his foreman, also testified that he assisted to collect the boxes and cases together and put them by the chimneys; water was thrown upon them; that some of the boxes were smoking, and that Mr. Edge sent for some water, which was thrown upon them.

The water which Mr. Edge had suggested and which was supplied, was no doubt used, as Mr. Cameron, who assisted Mr. Edge, and at the request of Mr. Richardson procured the buckets of water, testified. He said, That after the discharge of each piece, he saw that water was applied to the burning cases that laid on the roof; in most cases he applied it himself, and that Mr. Edge himself and some others went around the roof with buckets of water, and applied it wherever fire or sparks were visible. Yet their evidence also showed that remains of the fireworks which fell on the roof retained fire and sparks, and other evidence also showed that the water applied for their extinguishment was not sufficient, as afterwards the boxes and cases which were piled against the front chimneys on the main building, at both places ignited to ■ blaze; the first, those by the east chimney, at about ten o'clock, and which was put out by the bell-ringer, Mr. Bevins; and the second, those piled against the west chimney, at about half past eleven o'clock, and which latter burning, undoubtedly communicated with the roof, under the copper, and crept gradually to the base of the cupola, where it soon enveloped the whole of the structure in flames.

That all the fire retained in the remains of the fireworks were not extinguished by the water applied by Mr. Edge and his assistants, is fully evident from these facts. Fire was discovered shortly after ten o'clock, an hour and more after the exhibition was over, and all connected with it had left the roof, in the empty boxes and fire-work cases piled against the front east chimney of the main building.

This fact is fully established by the evidence of Mr. Owens, in charge of the telegraph office, in the basement of the hall, at the time, who says: "Shortly after ten o'clock on the night in question, ■ young man came into the office and said the roof of the hall was on fire facing Tammany Hall. I whistled up the speaking tube to Mr. Bevins—told him what the man said, and to examine the roof. Mr. Bevins replied, 'All right.' After a short time I called again to Mr. B. He replied, 'All right.'"

Mr. Sharky, who was in the telegraph office at the same time, testified that about five minutes past ten o'clock on the night in question, a young man came in and said he had been sent from the Tribune office to inform them there was fire burning on the roof of the hall, between the cupola and the Tribune office. That Mr. Owens called to the bell-ringer, through the tube, to put it out, and that not receiving an answer in about three minutes, he called again, and then received a reply, that all was right.

Mr. Bevins, the bell-ringer on duty at the hall, says: "A little after ten o'clock Owens called—told me there was fire on the roof. I was aware of that fact before, and was on the roof putting it out. It was alongside the east chimney, amongst boxes just smouldering up—used one bucket of water—Mr. White helped me."

This evidence of Mr. Bevins is corroborated by Mr. White, the person last alluded to in Bevins' evidence, Mr. White having called to see Mr. B. that night, and being at the time of this first fire, in the look-out with him.

Thus, from the above facts, as testified to by the witnesses, it will be seen that the precautions used by Mr. Edge had not been sufficient to extinguish all the fire from the empty boxes and cases left on the roof, especially so far as relates to those piled against the east chimney; and from the testimony which will be detailed below, it will also be as clearly shown that there still remained the germ of a conflagration in the boxes and cases placed by the chimney on the west of the main building.

The first fire, on the roof had been put out, and Mr. Bevins, after succeeding in this work, went again to his position in the look-out in the cupola. About this time two others of his friends, Mr. Smith and a Mr. Hilton, arrived there. Mr. White continued with them until about eleven o'clock, when he left. The others remained and talked together with Bevins, as Hilton says on the different topics of the day, Atlantic Telegraph, &c. Smith sat looking out of the window towards the post-office — witness towards the north window, and Bevins looking toward the east. Witness rested his head against the latter—was just about dozing, when Bevins touched him and said: "Hilton, those fire-works are going again; let's go and put them out." Bevins took a bucket of water, opened the trap, and witness went ahead with a tin cup to apply the water to the fire." He further says: "The last fire on the roof" (meaning the one he has just mentioned) "was by the west chimney."

Bevins says, in allusion to this last fire: "At about ten minutes to twelve o'clock his attention was again called to a fire on the roof—it was by the west chimney, amongst a lot of boxes and fire-work cases. Smith and Hilton came to the roof with him, and helped to put it out—there was a little flame—it came up all of a sudden."

And Smith says, referring to this last fire: "It was burning amongst fire-work cases. The fire might have been a foot high."

Bevins fixes the time of the occurrence of this last fire and of his going on the roof to put it out, at about ten minutes before twelve o'clock. In the point of time he is undoubtedly mistaken, as from the testimony of other witnesses, policemen and others who witnessed it, it must have been about fifteen minutes after twelve o'clock, and the fire, which from Bevins' testimony, and that of Smith and Hilton, was in the boxes and fire-work cases that were piled against the west chimney, had then been burning for at least three quarters of an hour, and no doubt thence found its way through the copper to the wood work on the roof, and was gradually finding its way through the ceiling below, over the attic rooms, and then to the cupola; for he (Bevins) says, continuing his evidence: "I discovered it first from the look-out—used a bucket of water to put it out, also all the water from the water-cooler; did not see fire any where else; should think I was in the neighborhood of fifteen minutes, or a little longer, putting out this second fire; while on the roof and about to return to the look-out heard a whistle through the tube; started for the tower; as soon as I got into the doorway found a volume of smoke coming up from the floor below; went to the look-out to answer the call; made three or four attempts to speak, but the smoke was so thick I came near choking; I ran from the tube to the lever, and commenced to hit the bell; struck it five strokes; the smoke gained so that I could not live, and jumped out of the window, off the look-out to the platform. I could not see any signs of fire. I recollect, after striking the bell five strokes, of making a pause, and then hit the bell one."

Smith says that he remained in the look-out about five minutes after Bevins and Hilton left; then went to the roof, and was about five minutes there in assisting them to put out the fire, when Bevins went to answer the call at the tube; and Hilton says that he was on the roof with Bevins about ten minutes in putting out the fire, when Bevins left to answer the call of the whistle. From this time until Bevins struck the bell but a few moments could have elapsed.

The time when the bell was struck, according to the testimony of Thomas Murphy, a private watchman, who had noticed the blaze on the roof, and which shone on the west side of the cupola, for an hour or more, was twenty-five minutes past twelve o'clock. He says, in confirmation of his testimony, "At a quarter past twelve o'clock, I crossed over the Park in front of the hall; halted in front; looked up; the light was very bright against the cupola, up to near the clock-dial; a light smoke was then passing from the roof. I did not see smoke issuing from the cupola; did not see any person on the roof; the light of the fire seemed to come from the roof, by the west chimney; did not like to give an alarm, fearing I might be mistaken—supposing the bell-ringer, if there was a fire, would attend to it. I went from the hall to Mr. Gooderson's, in Chatham street, for a segar; mentioned the circumstance of the fire on the roof. While there, the Hall bell was struck—five, then one, and stopped; looked at the Hall clock; it was then twenty-five minutes past twelve o'clock. The smoke was then passing over the lower part of the clock-dial."

Mr. Van Duzer, one of the roundsmen of the Third Ward Police, noticed the smoke coming from the cupola at twenty minutes past twelve o'clock by the City Hall clock; no alarm had then been given. He says: "I came from the station-house, on the night of the fire, at twenty minutes past twelve o'clock; went to the corner of Broadway and Chambers street; it was twenty minutes past twelve by the City Hall clock. While looking at the clock, noticed a smoke coming from the cupola towards Broadway; could not see any fire; smoke seemed to be issuing all round the cupola; said to Mr. Martendale, ■ private watchman, Can it be possible the hall is on fire?

It was very quiet about that time."—He then walked to Reade street; returned along Broadway to Murray street; the smoke kept increasing; met some policemen there, and soon gave an order to one to turn out 42 engine. He says: "Just as I gave the order, the hall bell struck five; then a pause, one more stroke, and stopped."

The light of the fire, however, burning on the roof, had been seen by several policemen, up to within a few minutes of the time that Mr. Van Duser noticed the smoke coming from the cupola. It had been noticed by Mr. Murphy, in the neighborhood of eleven o'clock, which he says "reflected against the cupola next to Broadway. From where I stood, had a full view of the hall." This light continued until the alarm of fire. He, however, lost sight of it for a short time previous to the alarm—as from his testimony, before noticed, it will be seen that in the neighborhood of fifteen minutes past twelve he crossed the Park, and went to Mr. Gooderson's, opposite, in Chatham street, and while in there heard the bell strike the alarm.

Franklin Boyd, also a policeman of the Third Ward, and who was on duty that night in Broadway, from Barclay to Liberty streets, from seven to twelve, says: "From eleven to half-past eleven o'clock I saw a light shining through the trees on the City Hall; from that time, up to after twelve, saw the light. After being relieved, walked up Broadway to Warren street; when at the corner of Murray street, I still noticed a bright light on the hall; it reflected against the cupola."—He, however, saw no persons on the roof.

Mr. William P. Miller, likewise a policeman of the same ward, and who was on duty from Reade to Barclay streets, on Broadway, on the same night, testifies that, "from half an hour to three-quarters of an hour before relieved, I saw a light on the City Hall; it reflected against the cupola next to Broadway; spoke to several persons about it; thought it was caused by the remains of fire-works; the light continued up to the time I was relieved—from five to ten minutes after twelve o'clock."—Neither did he see any persons on the roof.

It thus appears, from the testimony of the above three last-named witnesses, that the light of the fire was noticed by them burning on the hall, west of the cupola, from eleven to a quarter after eleven o'clock; and was seen by Mr. Murphy up to shortly after quarter past twelve o'clock. Mr. Van Duzer noticed the smoke, but no light, at twenty minutes past twelve. The light had then been visible, and the fire burning on the roof west of the cupola, for at least one hour, when no doubt Bevins and the others were aroused, or noticed the fire, and immediately went out to attempt to put it out. They found it among the boxes and fire-works cases by the west chimney, and immediately set to work to extinguish it. They undoubtedly scattered the fire, or deadened it on the roof, so as to prevent the light reflecting on the cupola, and, as they supposed, had extinguished it; but it had made its way before under the roof, and was about appearing over the ceiling in the middle attic room, and in the cupola, which was soon after filled with dense smoke. This was the natural course of the fire; the copper on the roof, between where the fire originated and the cupola, was about ten or twelve feet, and the roof, which gradually rose in height, was covered with copper: the fire, therefore, made its way among the timbers and wood-work underneath, until it reached the ceiling over the middle attic rooms and the cupola, where it then burst out.

It was noticed bursting out in the ceiling and on the west side of the cupola, about twenty minutes past twelve, by Mr. Cochran, who first discovered the fire on the roof while sitting on the front stoop of Tammany Hall. He says: "At about eight minutes past twelve, took a seat on the stoop of Tammany Hall to smoke a segar; it was eight minutes past twelve by City Hall clock; at that time noticed an unusual light shining on the frame-work of the bell. Got up; walked further along the stoop, to get a more extended view of the front of the hall; noticed a bright light shining against the chimney west of the cupola; believed the roof was on fire; told Mr. Robinson, who stood by me, to call 'Fire;' ran into the Park; called to Bevins to ring the bell, as he was all on fire; no one replied; gates were fastened; returned toward Tammany Hall; looked back, and could then see a light shining in the centre windows of the upper story; returned back in front of the hall, and could then see the flames passing along the ceiling; was in front of the hall when engine 42 came." He also says that when he first came to the hall, he did not see any one in the Park; it was very quiet; nor did he see any one on the roof when he first discovered the fire; and that, if there had been any persons on the roof by the chimney, he would have seen them.

Mr. Baulch and Mr. Cornwell, Engineers of the Fire Department, noticed the smoke coming from the roof, south-west corner of the cupola, at the corner of Spruce and Nassau streets, at about (as they say) five minutes past twelve o'clock, but saw no fire. It was no doubt, however, later than this, as Mr. Cochran, before mentioned, went to the Park after seeing the fire, which was at eight minutes past twelve by the City Hall clock, and saw no one then. Mr. Cornwell says that after he saw the smoke, he ran to the front of the hall; Mr. Baulch remained, calling to the bell-ringer; he went to the telegraph office; told the operator to ask the man at the bell what that fire was on the roof. Mr. Owens called up the tube three times, but received no reply. He then went directly up stairs, and found the door at the foot of the stairs fastened; returned to the body of the hall; he met a young man, and asked him to help break open the door; returned, and broke out the panel; went directly to the platform of the cupola, and there found a great body of smoke, but little or no smoke in the vestibule; that the door leading to the roof was shut, and tried to open it; he could not get to the look-out, the smoke being too dense; laid down on his face to breathe; backed down from the platform some three or four steps, and called to the bell-ringer seven distinct times; the last time he replied, "What's the matter?" or "What is it?" Told him to strike the bell, quick—to strike one round—then jump out of the window, as it was all on fire. The bell was struck right away; thinks he heard six strokes; after that, he heard a noise on the platform, like some one jumping down.

This was twenty-five minutes past twelve o'clock, and if Mr. Baulch and Mr. Cornwell arrived at past five minutes after twelve, twenty minutes must have elapsed; Mr. Baulch says, he remained in front of the hall ten minutes, when the bell struck; they, no doubt, came there about fifteen or twenty minutes after twelve, or about the time that Mr. Van Duser says he saw the smoke, but no fire.

Mr. Jacobs, one of the Express reporters, says, that he arrived at the hall exactly five minutes past twelve, by the City Hall clock; no alarm of fire at that time; that he went directly to the fire telegraph office, and was in the office about five minutes when Mr. Cornwell came in; Mr. Jacobs, after remaining in the office for some minutes, went up stairs with Mr. Sherwood, found the door at the foot of the stairs fastened; they got through the broken panel; went to front rooms in the upper story and saw fire burning in the ceiling, about the centre, about six inches in width; plaster had not fallen; did not see fire in any other part of the room; commenced to take out the books, and in about five minutes the flames drove him out; he then got on the roof from a window, east side of the vestibule; saw three or four persons on the roof, one of whom was Mr. Bevins.

This was after the alarm, and after Mr. Bevins had jumped down from the look-out.

Making allowance for the calculation of time by the witnesses, who did not notice the clock, these witnesses agree with each other.

From this examination, the undersigned have come to the following conclusions:

That the fire originated in the pile of boxes and fire-work cases, against the west chimney, in front of the hall, on the main building, about a quarter after eleven o'clock; that the blaze was seen by a number of persons, policemen and others, who were passing down Broadway, and who supposed the same was the remains of the fireworks and would be put out by the bell-ringers; that the fire blazed, and burned steadily, until a few minutes before the alarm was given, when Bevins, and those who were with him, Smith and Hilton, were aroused, and noticed the blaze, and then went to the roof and deadened it; that the fire burning so long on the roof, had, in the mean time heated through the copper, and ignited the wood work below, and thence worked along the wood work, until it made its appearance by smoke from the cupola, and after by fire breaking through the ceiling of the attic rooms, and then from the southwest corner of the cupola.

It is true that Mr. Corlies testifies, that in his opinion there could not have been sufficient heat from burning fire-works to have heated the woodwork under the copper; but he was not then aware of the facts of the fire having burnt so long among the boxes, and fire-work cases, by the west chimney. He says that the copper was one eighth of an inch thick, and had been recently repaired. The fire, as testified to, was, in the opinion of the undersigned, sufficient to have heated through, and the facts show conclusively, that it must have done so. Besides, the appearance of the burnt timbers on the roof, after the fire was over, showed that the fire originated in that part of the roof; and the evidence of Mr. Cornwell, who was the first one that reached the vestibule, in the upper part of the hall, proves this; he says: "while on the floor leading to the platform, could see the fire coming in at the southwest corner of the base of the look-out, about level with the roof; next went to the vestibule, and into the middle front room; could not discover fire anywhere, except in the corner of the ceiling next to the base of the look-out." This was the light of the fire seen by Mr.

Baulch and Mr. Cochran, showing through the middle windows of the attic rooms.

Mr. Decker, one of the Assistant Engineers of the Fire Department, testifies, that he saw the flames burning along the ceiling of the centre room, upper story, and that there was considerable smoke at the time issuing from the cupola; also, that from the appearance of the burnt timbers, he was of the opinion that it commenced in the cock-loft, between the ceiling of the front room and the roof.

One of the witnesses who noticed the fire at first, says, that he did not discover any persons on the roof; Mr. Bevins, and Smith and Hilton, however, testify that they were there, putting out the fire, Bevins about fifteen minutes, Hilton about ten minutes, and Smith says he was there five minutes; the undersigned are of the opinion that they were there for a few minutes, but just previously to the fire reaching the cupola, and after the fire had been burning for at least three quarters of an hour.

Mr. Baulch testifies, that he stood in the front of the hall for ten minutes, and called to the bell-ringer, but received no answer; while Bevins says: "that at the time he was putting out the second fire, he heard some one hallooing from the Park, but did not pay any attention.

TESTIMONY

TAKEN BY THE FIRE MARSHAL.

City and County of New York, ss:

John Richardson, being affirmed, says: — I am the Deputy Superintendent of Repairs and Supplies.

On Tuesday evening, the 17th August instant, just before dark, a man connected with Mr. Edge's fire-works, I think Mr. Cameron, said he wanted some buckets of water to keep on the roof of the hall, to be used in case of an accident; I furnished ten buckets; I saw them filled with water and sent up stairs; I had been on the roof that afternoon to take an inventory of the fire-works there; I was not again on the roof that night from the fact that I wanted to get up there, but the key of the door leading to the staircase would not unlock the door, and the key held by Mr. Taylor had been given to one of Mr. Edge's men; while the illumination was going on, I went through nearly all the rooms; there was no signs of any fire; I particularly noticed the garret story of the main building; I was in front of the hall when the lights were extinguished in the upper story of the main building; after all the lights had been put out. I again went through all the rooms and found everything safe, no signs of fire; I took particular notice of the garret rooms of the main building, the lights were out and all safe, as appeared to me; I had not been instructed by the Committee to take charge of the roof, but I took upon myself the responsibility to go through the building to see that all was safe in case of fire; I met Mr. Carpenter and Mr. Corlies passing through the different rooms; they had been on the same errand as myself; afterwards myself, Mr. Carpenter and Mr. Corlies went through several of the rooms together.

City and County of New York, ss:

Lewis Carpenter, being duly sworn, says:— I reside at No. 145 Suffolk street; I am a house carpenter; Mr. Richardson invited me to assist him during the illumination; I went through all the rooms and did not see anything out of the way; no signs of fire; I also went through the rooms after the lights were put out; I was on the roof two or three times during the evening; at about eight o'clock I had a conversation with Mr. Bevins, the bell-ringer; I asked him if there were any strangers on the roof, as I was determined that no person should be there except they had business there; I had already turned off several persons; Mr. Bevins replied there was none there, and if there was I could not put them down; I took him to be joking, as that appears to be the manner of the man; I did not see any persons with Mr. Bevins at that time; I did not go up to the look-out; Mr. Richardson requested me to come and assist him, and I took upon myself to take a general supervision over the building; at about half past eight or nine o'clock, I was again on the roof; I walked around, saw there was no fire; the fire-works had terminated; no one was on the roof that I could see; I noticed some buckets there; they stood on the platform by the cupola, but I could not say if they contained water; I walked about one half around the cupola towards the front of the hall and then to the rear part; all appeared to me to be safe; I don't think I remained there over five minutes; I then returned to the garret story of the main building, there I met Mr. Corlies; we went together through several rooms; Mr. Vandervoort, I think, carried a lantern; we then went to the second story, and went through all the rooms we found open; I did not close the door at the foot of the stairs leading to the roof; I found the door standing open; there is a strong spring to the door and it would close of itself on the night-latch.

James Cameron, being duly sworn, says : — I reside at No. 92 Elm street; I was an assistant to the Messrs. Edge in the preparing and exhibiting of the fire-works on the City Hall, on Tuesday night, the 17th August instant; at about four o'clock on that afternoon, I made a request of Mr. Richardson for the loan of ten buckets to keep a supply of water on the roof, in case of accident; these buckets were filled and conveyed to the roof.

The first signal rocket was fired at about twenty minutes past seven o'clock; the fire-works were then discharged one after the other until five minutes of nine o'clock, Hall time; after the discharge of each piece of fire-works I saw that water was applied from the buckets to the burning cases that laid on the roof; in most instances I applied the water myself; at no time did I have occasion to apply water at the base of the cupola, after putting the water on the cases; they were left on the roof near the coping; there was an unusual number of fire-works discharged from the roof, more so than on any previous occasion, and not so much from the front of the Hall; the principal cases that fell on the roof were battery boxes and mines, but the mines don't retain fire; I should judge I was on the roof about ten minutes after the last battery piece was set off; after this battery there were four shells discharged that terminated the exhibition; after everything had been discharged, Mr. Edge, myself and some others went around the roof with buckets of water and applied the water wherever we found a spark of fire, and in many places we applied water with a view to make everything safe; upon leaving the roof not a spark of fire was visible.

At no time while I was on the roof was there heat enough in the smouldering cases to have fired the wood under the copper roofing.

John Sharkey, being duly sworn, says:—I reside at No. 87 Perry street; I am at present acting in the capacity as porter in the Deputy Superintendent's office.

On Tuesday night, the 17th August (inst.), I was in the fire telegraph office, basement of the City Hall; to the best of my recollection, it was about ten o'clock, or five minutes after; Carpenter Brown was present, and Frank Owens, the person in charge of the telegraph. Just about that time a young man came into the office and stated that he had been sent from the Tribune office to inform them that there was a fire burning on the roof of the City Hall, between the cupola and the Tribune office. Upon that information, Mr. Owens went to the speaking tube, and called to the bell-ringer; he received a return signal. Mr. Owens then told him to look on the roof of the hall, between the cupola and Tammany Hall, and see if he could see any fire on the roof, because there was a person in the office who stated he had been sent from the Tribune office to notify them there was fire on the roof. Some three minutes elapsed, and not receiving an answer, Mr. Owens called again to the bell-ringer, and asked if there was any fire on the roof. A reply came down, and Mr. Owens stated that the bell-ringer said there was no fire on the roof; it was all right. In about two minutes afterwards I left.

John B. Corlies, being duly sworn, says:—I reside at No. 55 Ninth street. I am the Superintendent of Repairs and Supplies.

On Tuesday evening, the 17th August (inst.), I arrived at the City Hall at about seven o'clock: I went to the roof almost directly after; I went in front on the main building, and then soon after went to the look-out, where the bell-ringer is stationed. I understand his name is George Bevins; he was alone. I remained talking to Mr. Bevins for all of half an hour; at the time I left, Mr. Bevins was alone. Our conversation had been mostly about a proposed new look-out. Mr. Bevins said that Alderman Lynes was opposed to having a look-out built in the Park; that the Alderman wanted it to remain on the Hall, or have it entirely removed from the Park. After leaving the look-out, I went to the front of the Hall and witnessed the exhibition of fire-works. At the conclusion, I went to the garret story of the main building; there I met Mr. Carpenter and Vandervoort. We went through the different rooms with a lantern; the candles from the windows were removed, and the lights all out; everything appeared to be perfectly safe. From that floor we came down to the second story; there I saw Mr. Richardson, and we went through all the rooms on that floor to ascertain if all the lights had been extinguished. I found all safe; no signs of any fire, or candles burning.

I then proposed to Mr. Richardson to go on the cupola; we went to the door foot of the stairs, but the key I had would not turn the lock; I had found a difficulty with a similar key once before. We could not get in; we then came down stairs and went home. It was about half-past nine o'clock when I went through the different rooms.

The roof of the Hall is covered with sheet copper of about an eighth of an inch thick; it had been recently repaired. I consider it was in good order.

In my judgment, there could not have been created sufficient heat by the burning fire-work cases to have fired the wood underneath the copper roofing.

This forenoon I was present when Mr. Bevins was conversing with some of the fire-works men. I heard Mr. Bevins say that he was outside on the roof putting out the fire that was burning in the cases. Some one asked him why it was he did not ring the bell; he replied that he ran up the tower, and had only time to strike six times when the smoke came up so thick he had to leave.

John Vandervoort, being sworn, says:—I reside at No. 155 First avenue. I am a tinsmith; Mr. Kelly and myself had the contract to furnish the tin sockets and candles for the illumination of the City Hall. Our men put the sockets and candles at the City Hall windows; we had employed between one hundred and one hundred and fifty men; I cannot recollect all their names; I superintended the lighting of the upper part of the Hall, and Mr. Kelly the lower part.

In reference to the three rooms fronting the Hall on the upper floor, I put the sockets up myself in those rooms, and saw the candles lighted. I put J. T. Barnes in charge of the two rooms communicating, where the books were on shelves; the east room was entirely empty; Mr. Barnes had his wife and another lady sitting in this empty room, looking through the windows; I don't think the candles were burning over one hour and a half, or thereabouts; I was about from room to room, to see that all possible care was taken of the lights; I gave Mr. Barnes orders to put out the lights in these rooms; his wife and the lady were there; they remained until after the lights were put out. As soon as Mr. Barnes had put out the lights, I went through those rooms with a lantern, with Mr. Corlies, Mr. Richardson, Lewis Carpenter, Samuel Gallen, and others. I examined around each of the windows in these rooms, also the floors, and did not discover any indication of fire. This must have been from fifteen to thirty minutes after the termination of the fire-works.

To the best of my recollection, the partition between the two rooms where the books were, was formed by a rack, or cases containing books. The door leading into the book-room, under the tower, was not opened; we had no occasion to open it; we got to that room from the room west of it.

At the time we left the room that contained the books, Mr. Corlies pulled the door too, with the intention of locking it; but not having a key, he merely shut it; it was not locked after that, to my knowledge. I was not again in that room on that night. Mr. Richardson then proposed to go on the roof, to see if all was safe, but the door at the foot of the stairs being locked, we could not go up. I recollect Mr. Corlies trying a key in the lock, but it would not open it while I was present. I then left the Hall, and Barnes went with me. I am of the opinion that had any fire been burning or smouldering in those rooms, I must have discovered it, or others would, for we were there some fifteen minutes in and out of those rooms after the candles were extinguished. I did not discover any smoke or indication of fire at the time I left.

I did not see Mr. Bevins, the bell-ringer, nor any other persons on the roof when we first went out; there was not any one trying to put out the fire on the roof; at the John Lynes, being duly sworn, says:—I am Alderman of the Tenth district.

At about seven o'clock in the evening, on the night of the exhibition of the fire-works in question I went on the roof of the City Hall: there I saw Mr. Bevins, the bell-ringer; there were several persons present; they were bringing up the fire-works in boxes; a general conversation took place by those present; some one remarked there was fire-works enough to burn down the City Hall; there had been some conversation about a new look-out; I am on the Committee of Repairs and Supplies, and the subject had been referred to our committee, and no report had been made; I had been on the hall to look at it; when I made my appearance Mr. Bevins began at me, and thought we were negligent, in not providing for the wants of the bell-ringers; I replied to him that we had not yet made a report, but might do it very shortly; I considered Mr. Bevins was more pointed in his remarks than usual; I should say, from his conduct, he was somewhat under the influence of liquor.

When the remark was made about there being enough of fire-works to burn down the City Hall, Mr. Bevins replied, that he did not care a damn if it did burn down; that if it got on fire he would not lend a hand to put it out; those were about his exact words, as near as I can recollect; I took him to be joking, although he appeared to be irritated at the time; soon after that I left the roof, and was not up there again that evening.

To the best of my judgment, I think the fire originated somewhere around the base of the cupola; I form this opinion from the appearance of the burnt timbers; I have no fact within my knowledge to lead me to believe it has been the wilful act of any person; nor can I state it has been the result of accident; but I am inclined to believe that the fire has either been the act of an incendiary or the result of gross carelessness.

And further, I recollect going into the three rooms on the upper story, front of the hall; the candles were then being lighted in the windows; that was about half past seven; I told those lighting them to be very careful; I thought it looked unsafe, as there were so many books and papers in those rooms, on shelves; I went to the squad-room, and told them to send a man to the front rooms, upper story, and have him stationed there, as it looked dangerous; they said they would do so; I was not again in those rooms.

When on the corner of Broadway and Chambers street, I had a view of the City Hall clock; I noticed it was then about twenty minutes past twelve o'clock by that clock. While looking at the clock, I noticed a smoke coming from the cupola toward Broadway; I could not see any fire; the smoke seemed to be issuing all around it. I said to Mr. Martindale, a private watchman, "Can it be possible the hall is on fire?" I thought it a kind of strange that, if the hall was on fire, why the bell-ringer did not ring an alarm; it was very quiet just about this time. I then walked to Reade street, along Broadway, and returned along Broadway to the corner of Murray street. I continued to look at the hall; the smoke kept increasing; I began to think certainly the hall must be on fire. At the corner of Murray street I found three of our officers—Ward, Burdret and Ellis. I remarked to them, "Is not the hall on fire?" They replied they did not know; they had been looking at it. I felt satisfied, from the quantity of smoke, the hall must be on fire. I directed one of the men to turn out 42 engine company; just as I gave this order, the hall bell was struck; five strokes were made—then a pause, and one stroke more—then it stopped. At that time I did not see any light when I was looking at the smoke, nor did I see any person or persons on the roof, nor hear any one. On any other night, I should have given the alarm when I first saw the smoke; but supposing it to come from the fire-works, and that the bell-ringer would attend to it, I did not do so.

On the night of the fire in the City Hall, I had been on the roof of Tammany Hall, looking at the display of fireworks on the City Hall. Soon after the termination of the fireworks, I was still on our roof, when I noticed a fire burning on the hall roof, by the chimney, side of the cupola. I noticed people on the roof, putting out the fire. I think, just as I was coming down stairs, I heard the nine o'clock bell striking.

At about eight minutes past twelve o'clock, or thereabouts, I took a seat in front of the hotel to smoke a segar. I looked up at the City Hall to see the time, and I think it was then eight minutes past twelve. At that time I noticed an unusual light shining on the frame-work which held the bell. I got up from my seat, and walked along the stoop, to get a more extended view of the front of the hall. I then could see a bright light shining against the chimney west of the cupola. Knowing such a light as that was unusual, I believed the roof was on fire. I told Mr. Robinson, who stood by me, to call out "Fire!" as the hall was on fire. I ran into the Park; I called out to Mr. Bevins to ring the bell, as he was all on fire; no one replied to me. I hurried up the hall steps, thinking I could go up to see, and give them the alarm; but the gates were fastened, and I could not get in. I hurried down the steps, and went toward Tammany Hall. I stopped at the curbstone, and looked back at the hall. I could then see a light shining in the upper front windows. I returned to the front of the hall, and could see the flames passing along the ceiling of the centre room. I was in front of the hall when 42 engine came. When I first ran over to the hall, there was not any one in sight or in front of the hall but myself; everything was very quiet.

At the time I first discovered the light of the fire shining on the chimney west side of the cupola, there was not any one on the roof that I saw; if any persons had been on the roof by the chimney, I could have seen them. When the firemen came, they used their axes to get the gates open.

As near as I can judge, the flames first burst out at the base of the cupola, rather toward the west side.

the cupola, on the main building; we threw water upon them, and extinguished all the fire that was then visible; we had but rockets, mines, bomb-shells, and batteries of Roman candles, also some colored lights; we did not use the latter on the hall roof; they were used in the Park; in addition to the above we had port-fire, used for discharging the pieces.

There was not any fire-works left on the roof to my knowledge, except as I am informed by my foreman, that one of the mines had been broken from the board; the candle he had removed from the mine, and threw the serpents into the Park; put the candle into water, and threw it on the roof; the fire-works on this occasion were precisely the same as I have always discharged from the roof of the Hall, with the exception, considerably more in quantity.

To the best of my recollection, this was the first occasion of keeping a supply of water in buckets on the roof.

from it; this box must have contained about six dozen large Roman candles; its value would be thirty dollars; it was brought full to the roof of the City Hall.

The smaller box I also recognise to belong to Mr. Edge; it contained about eight dozen candles of a smaller kind; from the appearance of this box I should say the candles had not been discharged from it; I was on the roof, and remained there until every thing had terminated; I assisted to collect the boxes and cases together, and put them by the chimneys on the west and east side; I directed water to be thrown on the boxes; I found some few of the wood boxes smoking; I told Mr. Edge we must have more water; water came, and he threw it on the boxes; at the time we left I did not see any fire.

Late on that afternoon the fire-works were counted over by the Committee; all found to be there; the rockets over-run; I had stored the fire-works in the jury-room, on the upper floor; during the afternoon we removed them to the platform, front of the door leading to the cupola; we did not count the different pieces as we discharged them; I cannot say if we fired off all, but I supposed we did, with the exception of the two now here; the large sized box now here is much larger than we ever made before, and I am confident it is one of our boxes; we had six of this size, and six a size larger.

I recollect picking up a mine from the gutter; I drew out the candle, and threw the serpents from the case into the Park; the candle I threw into the gutter, on the roof, supposing the water would prevent it going off; that candle originally contained eight balls; by the burning for the cupola that candle might have been set off.

On the night of the fire in question I had been up town, and returned to the Park; it was exactly five minutes past twelve o'clock by the City Hall clock; there was not any alarm of fire that I heard at that time; I went directly to the telegraph office, and saw Mr. Owens, the telegraph operator; I called in to write out some copy; I don't think I had been in the office over five minutes when Mr. Cornwell came in; he said the roof of the City Hall was on fire; we asked Owens to tell the bell-ringer; Owens called to the bell-ringer; he did not get any reply; he whistled probably for some five or six minutes; Owens then asked me to blow the whistle; I said probably I could make him hear; I then blew up the tube, and in about four or five minutes after I had whistled a rather feeble whistle came down in reply; Owens kept calling up the tube that the roof of the Hall was on fire; no answer came while I remained there; I think I proposed to go up to see about it; Owens gave me a key to the door; Mr. Cornwell had gone out before; I hurried up, followed by a young man named Sherwood; I got to the door; I could not open it; I then noticed the lower panel was out; I got through it, and went up to the upper rooms; I went into the room which appeared to me to be directly under the cupola; there I saw fire burning about the centre of the ceiling; the flames were about six inches in width; the plaster had not fallen at that time; I did not see fire in any other part of the room; I noticed in this room books on shelves; it looked to be rather a small room; I went to work taking some of the books down nearest the ceiling; there were two or three others also taking down books; I don't recollect seeing Cornwell there; I think I had been there about five minutes when about three quarters of the ceiling fell; the flames then rushed into the room, and drove us all out; I then backed away to pretty near in the centre of the hall, on the east side of the cupola; some one with an ax knocked out a window; I think a fireman went through this window to the roof, and I followed him; when I got on the roof I found three or four persons there; one I subsequently ascertained to be the bell-ringer; I made an allusion, that the bell-ringer must be either drunk or dead, he not being able to hear the whistle; the bell-ringer, Mr.

Bevins, spoke up and said he had been on the roof some fifteen or twenty minutes trying to extinguish the fire; by this time the firemen had got a stream of water in the room below, and were throwing it on the back of the cupola; I was on the roof, and witnessed the flames surround the cupola; the flames had ascended to about one half up the cupola; I then witnessed an explosion of fireworks; it was not very extensive; I remained on the roof until the cupola fell.

John Baulch being duly sworn, says:—I am one of the Assistant Engineers of the Fire Department.

At from five to ten minutes past twelve o'clock on Tuesday night, the 17th August, inst., I was in the Park, front of the City Hall; Peter N. Cornwell, also an Engineer, and Henry Ragan were with me; just as we came from Nassau street, in view of the City Hall, my attention was directed to a light smoke coming from the roof of the Hall; as near as I can describe it, the smoke came from the rear of the middle flagstaff, front of the cupola; I did not see any fire, nor light of a fire; myself and Mr. Cornwell both called to the bell-ringer; I called two of the bell-ringers by name, Bevins and Cornwell; I got no reply; to the best of my recollection, I stood calling up as loud as I could for nearly ten minutes; Mr. Cornwell left me, to go to the roof; I called to him, thinking he might have got to the roof, but got no reply; I remained in front of the Hall until the bell struck "five;" just at that time I discovered the light of fire through the window of the upper room; upon the bell striking, 22 engine came, and I gave them instructions to go to work; I remained outside to give instructions to the firemen as they came up.

While I stood in front of the Hall calling for the bell-ringer, I did not see nor hear any one on the roof; and in my opinion, had any one been on the roof, they must have heard me, and I think I should have heard them.

It is the duty, and it is also the law, for bell-ringers to reply to Engineers or other firemen calling to them in reference to fires; the next fire that exhibited itself was at the base of the cupola; I had not been on the roof of the Hall that evening.

Peter N. Cornwell being duly sworn, says:—I reside at No. 5 Ludlow street; I am one of the Assistant Engineers of the Fire Department.

On Tuesday night, the 17th August, 1858, I was in the company of Mr. Baulch; we walked together along Nassau street, to the corner of Spruce street; when at the corner my attention was drawn to a light and a smoke on the roof of the City Hall; I noticed it at the south-west corner of the cupola, at the base of the cupola; I said to Mr. Baulch, I believed the Hall was on fire; I ran across to the Park, in front of the Hall, and called out "fire;" I stopped and hailed the man on the bell; I did not receive any reply; I did not call any one by name, not knowing at the time who was on the bell; I called out once or twice, but no one answered; I then went into the telegraph office; I told the operator to ask the man on the bell what that fire was on the roof; Mr. Owens called up the tube three times, but received no reply; not receiving any reply, I started for up stairs; I went to the door foot of the stairs, and found it fastened; I returned down to the body of the Hall; there I met a young man, and he went back with me to assist me to break the door open; I finally succeeded in breaking out the panel, and I went up stairs to the platform; little or no smoke in vestibule; in the cupola I found a great body of smoke; I tried to get out at the door leading to the roof; I could not get it open; I was unable to get to the look-out for the dense smoke; as it was I was compelled to crouch down on my face to get air; I backed down probably three or four steps down the stairs; I then called out to the bell-ringer seven different times; the last time I hallooed he answered me; the trap-door leading to the look-out was down; to the best of my belief, I understood the bell-ringer to reply to me: "What's the matter?" or, "What is it?" I told him to strike the bell quick—to strike one round, then jump out of the window, as it was all on fire below; the bell was struck right away, and I think I heard six strokes; I called to him, Why don't you strike the bell quick? some one answered: " We are striking it with a piece of iron;" while I was on the stairs leading to the platform I could see the fire coming in at the south-west corner of the base of the look-out; it was then about level with the roof; I then got from the stairs to the vestibule; I went into the middle room, fronting the Hall; I could not discern any fire except in the corner next to the base of the look-out; there appeared to be some of the ceiling down there; I went to the doors of the other rooms fronting the Park; I did not see any fire in either of them; I then went down stairs, and came up shortly after with 22 engine pipe; I could not then get within fifteen feet of the stairs leading to the look-out; the fire was then spreading towards the front of the Hall; I recollect distinctly, after hearing the bell strike six times, hearing a fall on the platform like some one jumping out of the window.

I recollect, while I was trying to burst open the door at the foot of the stairs, coming out on the corridor and looking up through the sky-light of the dome; I could see distinctly the smoke curling up the cupola, around the face of the clock.

Edward P. Sherwood being sworn, says:—I reside at No. 289 Broadway; I am a clerk.

On the night of the fire in the City Hall, in question, I was in the fire-telegraph office, basement, talking with Mr. Owens, the telegraph operator; I had been there from half past six o'clock that evening up to the occurrence of the fire; at about ten o'clock a young man came into the office; he was dressed in a red shirt; looked like a fireman; he said the Hall was on fire; Mr. Owens went to the speaking tube; called once to the bell-ringer; a reply came down: "All right;" at about fifteen minutes after twelve Mr. Cornwell came into the telegraph office, and said the Hall was on fire, and asked Mr. Owens to call to the man on the bell to find out what it was; Mr. Owens called three times while I was there, and got no reply; I then started for up stairs to go to the roof; I broke open the door back of room No. 18; that did not go to the stairs to go to the roof; as soon as the door was broken open leading to the spiral staircase I went up to the vestibule; I turned to the right, and went around until I came to a door which led into the room fronting the Park, I found this room filled with books on shelves; I looked to the left, and in the left hand corner of that room I discovered a fire burning in the ceiling, bursting through from above; and about five feet from this corner I saw fire burning on the shelving, amongst the books in the partition; it was then about four feet from the ceiling; from there the fire was burning to the ceiling; there was a good deal of smoke in this room; I did not notice any fire on the floor; I commenced to take down some books on the side the fire was burning; I was alone at that time; I did not then try to get on the roof; I think Mr. Jacobs, of the Express, assisted me to take down some books.

As I was going up, I recollect meeting Mr. Cornwell; the Engineer, coming down; it was on the vestibule of the second story.

I had not been on the roof that evening.

My attention was first directed to the upper windows of the Hall; I think the centre window; I think the centre window right under the cupola; I could see the flames burning along the ceiling; there was considerable smoke issuing from the cupola at the time; I remained in front of the Hall until ladders were erected, and I sent up two or three streams; I subsequently went on the roof, and remained there until after 8 o'clock the next morning.

From the appearance of the burning of the timbers, in my judgment the fire commenced in the cockloft, between the ceiling of the front room and the roof, near the base of the cupola.

James Taylor being duly sworn, says:—I reside in the City Hall; I have charge of the building; I attend to the cleaning of the different departments; I have resided in the said Hall for some 12 or 13 years past; I have always found great difficulty in keeping a lock to the door foot of the Jury stairs; I mean the door leading from the second floor; the lock remains for a short time, then I find it broken off; there was a lock put on the door a few days before the fire; there was a key for this lock left with me; I had used this key and opened the door once or twice before the fire; we lent the key on the night of the exhibition to the fire-work men, so they could pass up and down; it was returned to me; I suggested the propriety to Mr. Corlies of having a lock or fastening put to this door to keep the rabble from going up there; I know a man named Watson; this man used to sleep in the upper part of the Hall in a cockloft, under the roof of the east wing; I knew him to be a very sober and careful man; I never saw him with a light; I think it's all of a year and a half ago since I have known Watson to go up and down the Hall; he was going up and down for some time before I knew he slept there ; the first knowledge I had about his sleeping there was one day I found him in the empty Jury-room, he was then almost naked ; I inferred from seeing a hammock suspended from the beams in the cockloft that he slept there ; I never found him asleep, and I could not swear that he ever did actually sleep there ; I have often seen him writing in the Jury-room on the upper story ; I cannot say if any one gave him permission to sleep there ; I never did ; he asked me the privilege to set there and write a little ; I found him so gentlemanly that I told him I thought they would have no objection when the room was not used by the Court or Jury.

Mr. Watson has never done any work for me around the Hall in any way ; sometimes I would not see him for a week or two at a time ; he told me he was engaged writing for some publication in Baltimore.

I never knew that he ever did cooking in this cockloft, or had a fire ; but from the appearance of the cockloft when I went in there the other day with Mr. Corlies and the Fire Marshal, then I saw a small stove, the pipe of which went up the ventilator ; there seemed to have been fire made in this stove at some time ; I was astonished to see this, as I did not know anything about it, and would not have given permission for any such purposes ; I have not seen him but once since the night of the fire ; he was at our door on the night of the fire offering to lend us a hand ; I did not engage him to do anything ; I did not give him permission to sleep in any room ; he informed me he was a shoemaker by trade ; I never gave him a key to the door leading up stairs.

About two months ago he asked me if he could make a place under the foot of the Jury-room stairs ; he fixed it himself with some old boards ; I told him I did not think there would be any objection, but if the space was wanted he must clear out immediately ; subsequently I saw him writing there.

This man is the only person that I was knowing to sleeping up stairs ; I never gave permission to any other person, and he got possession without my knowledge in consequence of the doors being open most of the time ; I found it impossible to keep locks on the doors while so many persons were night and day passing up and down to the bell-ringers ; some few years ago I recollect giving keys to the bell-ringers, but latterly I had not done so ; there is a dark passage leading to the upper floor, but Bevins and Cornwell rather objected to using that dark passage.

Thomas Murphy being duly sworn, says :--I reside at East Brooklyn ; I am the private night watchman employed by Ball, Black & Co., No. 247 Broadway, corner of Murray street ; my duty is to watch the outside of said store.

On the night of the celebration of fire-works on the City Hall in question, was on duty ; in the neighborhood of betwen 10 and half past 10 o'clock noticed a light on the City Hall, it did not remain long at that time ; again in the neighborhood of 11 o'clock another light was visible on the Hall, at that time I noticed a man on the roof moving about ; the light of this second fire reflected against the cupola next to Broadway ; from where I stood had a full view of the Hall ; this light continued until the alarm of fire ; the reflection of light on the side of the cupola kept increasing ; a number of persons passed up and down Broadway during the time this light was on the Hall, remarking "Is the City Hall on fire?" others would say "No, it's the remains of the fire-works," and remarks to that effect.

Shortly after 12 o'clock the police came to relieve ; told several policemen about the light, they looked at it ; told them I had seen it burning for at least one hour and a half ; it was then nearly 10 minutes past 12 ; the light then began to show very bright on the cupola ; the fire seemed to be on the roof, west side of the cupola.

At near a quarter past 12 o'clock I crossed over the Park in front of the Hall ; halted in front, looked up ; the light was very bright against the cupola up to near the clock dial ; a light smoke was then passing from the roof ; did not see smoke issuing from the cupola ; did not see any person on the roof ; the light of the fire seemed to come from the roof by the west chimney ; did not like to give an alarm, fearing I might be mistaken, supposing the bell-ringer, if there was a fire, would attend to it ; went from the Hall to Mr. Gooderson's, in Chatham, for a paper of tobacco ; mentioned the circumstance of the fire on the roof ; while there the Hall bell was struck five ; then one, and stopped ; looked at the Hall clock, it was then 25 minutes past 12 ; the smoke was then passing over the lower part of the clock dial.

As I left Gooderson's door, heard persons calling in the Park ; returned to Broadway and Murray street ; saw the flames first burst out at the base of the cupola, west side.

George Bevins, being duly sworn, says:—I reside at No. 169 Elm street; I am one of the bell-ringers, stationed at the City Hall; I have been one of the ringers very near five years; on Tuesday evening, the 17th of August inst., I went on duty, at seven o'clock; I relieved William F. Cornwell; there was no other persons in the look-out when I relieved Mr. Cornwell; Mr. John B. Corliers, and his two sons, came to the look-out, along about half-past seven or eight o'clock; they remained there about half an hour; after the fire-works had all been discharged, at near nine o'clock, Mr. John C. White, a friend of mine, came to the look-out; I don't know how he got up there, unless the door, foot of the stairs, was open; Mr. Smith, and Mr. R. H. Hilton, also friends of mine, came to the look-out, at about ten o'clock; no other persons came up; I had been notified, by Mr. Owens, that two young men wanted to see me; I went to the door, foot of the stairs, and opened it; there I found Mr. Smith and Mr. Hilton; Mr. White remained up to eleven o'clock, then he went away; I did not see him again; Mr. Hilton and Smith remained with me all the night, until after the fire.

A little after ten o'clock that night, Mr. Owens called to me, saying, there was fire on the roof; I was aware of that fact before he called to me; at the time he called up, I was on the roof, putting out the fire; the fire was alongside the chimney, amongst some fire-work boxes, east side towards Tammany Hall; the fire had just commenced to kindle, but the most part was smouldering; the fire was both inside and outside of the boxes, and around the edges; they were like the boxes now here; there was some long boards, on which fire-works had been attached; I had two buckets of water, and a water cooler, containing water; we only used one bucket of water, and then tramped out the remaining fire with our feet; Mr. White helped me to put out the first fire; it was not of much consequence, as the fire was very light; after putting out this fire, I went again to the look-out, and Mr. White went with me.

At about ten minutes to twelve o'clock, or somewhere in that neighborhood, my attention was again called to fire on the roof; it was then by the west chimney, where there was a lot of boxes, boards, and fire-work cases, piled up against the chimney; Mr. Smith and Hilton came to the roof with me, and helped to put out the fire; there was a little flame, it came up all of a sudden; I discovered it first from the look-out; I used a bucket of water to put it out; I also used all the water from the water cooler; I did not see fire anywhere else, at that time; I should think I was in the neighborhood of fifteen minutes, or a little longer, putting out this second fire; while I was on the roof, and about to return to the look-out, I heard a whistle through the speaking tube; I started for the tower as soon as I got into the doorway, to go to the stairs, leading to the look-out; I found a volume of smoke coming up from the floor below; I went to the look-out to answer the call of the pipe; I made three or four attempts to speak down the pipe, but the smoke was so thick I came near choking; I ran from the pipe to the lever, and commenced to hit the bell; I struck five strokes on the bell; the smoke gained on me so, I could not live, so I jumped out of the window of the look-out, to the platform; I could not see any signs of fire; I recollect after striking the bell five, of making a pause, and then hit the bell one; then I had to escape for my life, out at the window; during the time I was in the look-out, Mr. Hilton and Smith were on the roof, calling me to come out: after getting to the roof, I went to the bell, and struck it with an iron bar, but the sound did not extend far; I stood there and struck it until the smoke drove me away.

At the time I discovered the second fire amongst the boxes, on the roof, I did not discover any indication of smoke in the look-out, or on the stairs, as I passed down, nor did I discover any smoke coming from the roof; I suppose I was on the roof, at the second fire, some ten or fifteen minutes before I heard the whistle through the speaking tube; I did not see any liquor brought on the roof that night, nor on any other night, nor did I hear that a pail of punch had been brought to the roof by the fire-work men; at no time, on that night, after the fire-works had been let off, did I see or hear any stranger on the roof, putting out a fire; if any person had come to the roof, for such a purpose, I must have seen or heard them; it was very still after ten o'clock, and the wind was very light; the first smoke that I discovered, of any indication of fire in the building, was at the time I went into the tower, to go to the look-out, to answer the call in the speaking tube; at the time I was putting out the second fire, I heard some one hallooing from the Park, but I did not pay any attention, because our orders are, never to pay any attention to persons calling to us; they must go to the telegraph office, then we get the word through the speaking tube; I did not see Engineer Cornwell on the roof; I heard some one call to me to come out of the tower; the voice came from down stairs, it was not Hilton or Smith; I have not any recollection of ever saying that I wished the old tower would burn down; if I ever have said so, I don't now recollect it; I have advocated the building of a new look-out, because the one we had was a very poor one; I had not been asleep on that night, nor had I been drinking; I knew perfectly well what I was about, as much so as ever I did; at no time, that night, had I any indication of fire, by smoke, or otherwise, until the time I was returning to the look-out, as stated above; as to the origin of the fire, I am of an opinion that it originated in one of the rooms, on the floor below; I do not believe the fire was caused by the burning of the fires which I put out on the roof; I do not believe there was heat enough in those fires to have fired the wood underneath the copper roofing; as to how the fire originated in the floor below, is a matter I don't know anything about.

Charles S. Smith, being duly sworn, says:—I reside at No. 50 Greene street. I am an assistant bookkeeper; at present I am not in employ; I am acquainted with Mr. Bevins. I have known him since last summer; I do not belong to the Fire Department; I did not witness the exhibition of fire-works on last Thursday night. I got to the Hall about ten o'clock; Mr. Hilton was with me; I came to the Hall on business with Mr. Bevins; I came to pay him some money for some tickets for the benefit of Mr. Carroll, at Bryant's minstrels; I was not at the minstrels that night; I first saw Mr. Hilton that night at the corner of Elm and Grand streets; he was at the minstrels that night; I think it was about half-past nine o'clock when I first met him; I first went with him to 19 hose carriage house, to see how they were illuminated; I don't think Mr. Bevins knew I was coming down; I have been on the look-out with Mr. Bevins quite a number of times; I think the time before it was the day time I was there; I think it was Monday, the day before the exhibition; we went in the telegraph office; told Mr. Owens we wanted to go up, and he whistled up the pipe; Mr. Owens told Bevins that some of his friends wanted to see him; we went up to the door, and Mr. Bevins let us in; we went to the look-out; we found Mr. White there; we sat down and were talking about the minstrels, and one thing and another; I took a chair and leaned back in it; we had been up there from fifteen to twenty minutes, when Bevins and White went to the roof to put out a fire that was burning amongst the remnants of the fire-works on the east side; I remained in the tower; they remained on the roof probably five or ten minutes; I could not say who came from the roof first; some one whistled up the tube and said there was a man from Tammany Hall said there was fire on the roof; one had come in from the roof, but I could not say which, and answered down the tube; I think they said all right; I am confident I did not answer; I think the other came in right after the first; we all sat down and conversed together; I dozed off a little.

I think Mr. White went away at about a quarter to eleven, or eleven o'clock. I know I heard the trap open; the opening of the trap caused me to open my eyes; I did not see any one go down with White; after White left, I shut my eyes again; I did not converse with the other two; I don't think I fell sound asleep; I should think I remained that way from half an hour to thirty-five minutes; at about that time Mr. Bevins and Mr. Hilton went out on the roof; I sat still just as I was before the trap was left open by them; in about five minutes after they went down, I went to the roof; I left the trap open; I saw Bevins and Hilton; their backs were turned towards me; I think the first question I asked was, what was the matter; Hilton said, "take hold and put out this fire;" I noticed the fire burning amongst some empty fire-work cases; some of them were nailed on a board; I kicked some of them off; the fire might have been a foot high on some of them; I could see these things burning after I got on the roof; they had scattered them some, but not a great deal; those I saw blazing were near the gutter; I took a board to knock the cases off the board; I think I had been out then five minutes; just as I took the board, Mr. Bevins ran to answer the call of the whistle up the pipe; I heard the whistle.

As soon as Bevins turned around to go, I heard some persons in the Park hallooing fire; we had then got the fire pretty much out, and the moment we turned around, we saw smoke coming out of the tower towards the bell; I did not see any fire at that time; I stood perfectly still for a second or two; I then tried to get into the door leading to the tower; I got just inside the door; I heard Mr. Bevins cough; I could not see if the trap was open, for the dense smoke; just about that time I heard some one call Bevins from the floor below; I don't know who it was; I asked who was there, and he gave no name, but kept on hallooing George; I called to him to come up this way, and the answer was, "he could not get up, that the fire was between him and me."

While I was answering to this person, Bevins struck the bell; he struck five and then one very faintly; I called to him to come out of the tower, or he would smother; the smoke was so thick I did not see him come; the next I saw of him was, he was on the platform that goes around the sky-light; Hilton asked him where the sledge was; he said he did not know; I looked towards him, and saw him wiping his eyes; Hilton and myself got the crow-bar; Bevins took it and struck the bell for the Seventh district; I had my fire-coat on and red shirt; Bevins did not have his fire-coat that I saw; he was without coat or hat when he came from the look-out, after striking the bell; Hilton was without a coat.

At the time the tower was in a blaze, I noticed a lot of nigger-chasers come from around the tower, as if coming from the roof of the Hall; I am sure that Mr. Bevins was not drunk that night; I am confident he was perfectly sober; if he had been under the influence of liquor, I should have noticed it.

As to the origin of the fire, I should say it commenced somewhere down stairs; at the time I came from the lookout the last time, and helped to put out the fire on the roof, I did not discover any indication of smoke from below; I have no personal knowledge whatever about its origin.

While the cupola was burning, I looked from the roof and saw a piece of fire-works go off; it was on the ground, rear of the Hall; there might have been a dozen of the mines nailed on a board.

City and County of New York, ss:

Richard H. Hilton, being duly sworn, says:—I reside at No. 50 Greene street; I am a machinist by trade; I do not belong to the Fire Department.

I am acquainted with George Bevins, the bell-ringer; On Tuesday night, the night of the exhibition of fire-works in question, myself and Charles S. Smith went to the Hall to see Mr. Bevins on some business; I had some money that belonged to him, and I thought I would call down and give it to him; Mr. Smith had some money also belonging to Mr. Bevins; we got to the City Hall at about ten o'clock; we went to Mr. Owens in the telegraph office; he told Mr. Bevins that we wanted to see him, and Mr. Bevins came down to the door and let us in; when we got to the look-out, we found Mr. White there, with whom we were acquainted.

I had been on the look-out several times before, but Mr. Bevins had never asked me to come; I went of my own accord; I had some tickets for Mr. Carroll's benefit at Bryant's minstrels, which I had got from Mr. Bevins to sell for him; it amounted to seventy-five cents, for three tickets. Mr. Smith had sold some tickets also; I should judge I was in in the look-out about ten minutes when Mr. Bevins saw fire on the roof, by the chimney next Centre street; Mr. White went down with Mr. Bevins; they put out the fire; it did not amount to much; word came up the speaking tube, that fire was on the roof; Bevins was at that time putting it out; I cannot say who answered the tube, but I think Mr. White, as Mr. Bevins was on the roof at the time; I did not go on the roof; I was looking out at the window; Mr. Smith was in the look-out with me; Mr. Bevins and Mr. White remained on the roof from fifteen to twenty minutes; Mr. White came up first, and left Mr. Bevins down; he remained some five or ten minutes after.

We all remained in the look-out up to about eleven o'clock; then Mr. White left; we remained in the look-out, Mr. Smith looking out at the window facing the Post-office; I sat with my face looking towards the north window, looking up town; Mr. Bevins sat in the north-west corner, looking towards the East; our conversation touched on the various topics of the day—telegraph, &c.; I got up, and looking out of the window, I said, George, I am going to discover a fire; that was about half-past eleven o'clock; there was not the least signs of smoke in the look-out at that time; I sat down again in my chair, and rested my head against the table, and was talking to Mr. Bevins, and was just about dozing to sleep, when Bevins touched me, and said, "Hilton, those fire-works are going again on the roof, let's go and put them out;" Mr. Bevins took a bucket of water, opened the trap, and went down with it; I went ahead of him with a tin cup to apply the water on the fire; Mr. Smith remained in the look-out; at the time I came down I did not discover any indication of smoke any more than I had seen on the tower before—I mean on any other day; I took up a board and knocked off the fire-work cases fastened on it; they were then just a kind of blazing up; we had been on the roof putting out the fire by the chimney west side of the cupola about ten minutes when Mr. Smith came down; he asked us what was the matter; I told him to help to get those fire-works out as soon as possible; he went to work to assist to put them out; we had thrown on one pail of water, and that was all the water there was there to throw; I had been all over the roof that night, and had not seen any other water; if it had been there I must have seen it.

We were about five or ten minutes putting out the fire after Mr. Smith came, making altogether about twenty minutes on the roof; while we were on the roof, and just about putting out the last of the fire I heard the whistle of the speaking tube; Mr. Bevins went to the look-out right-away; we both remained putting out the fire; I took the pail, and thought I would go down stairs to get some more water; as I approached the door I saw smoke curling up the stairs from below; at that time I called to

Mr. Bevins, saying there was smoke coming up from below; he was in the look-out at the time; the trap to the look-out was then open; I suppose Mr. Smith had left it open; the smoke was so thick I had to back out; just as I was backing out I heard Mr. Bevins halloo three times down the speaking tube; I judge so from the tone of his voice, but I could not tell what he said; the smoke at that time came up very heavy; the smoke was so heavy that I should not like to have ventured to go up to the look-out; I should judge the smoke smelt like the burning of either wood or paper; I did not discover any fire, but only smoke; I could not say where Mr. Bevins was at the time; I told him there was fire below; he might have been in the look-out, or he might have been going up the stairs; I heard Mr. Bevins calling in the pipe just as soon as he got up; I called out to Mr. Bevins to come out, he would suffocate; that was before the bell rang; he did not answer me; I think I called to him at least three or four times; the last time I called to him he answered me and said he could not get down by the stairs; he had then struck the bell; I told him to come out at the window; I saw him slide down the lightning-rod by the north window, and come down on the platform right by me.

The door leading to the roof from the cupola had been open all the time; I did not see any one close it, and I don't think it was shut; I spoke to Bevins; asked him where the sledge was; he replied, he did not know; he was coughing with the smoke; I said I would get the crow-bar, which was over the bell; I climbed up, got it, and Mr. Bevins struck the bell with it.

At the time Mr. Bevins was in the look-out, and I think before he struck the bell, I heard some one from below calling; Mr. Smith asked what they wanted; I did not hear the reply, as I went away.

I should judge that Mr. Bevins was not over two or three minutes in the look-out before he struck the bell; he struck five times, then a short pause, and struck one; directly after that he came down the rod; my coat was hanging up in the look-out; that was destroyed in the fire; Mr. Bevins lost his hat and coat, keys, &c.; Mr. Smith had his coat on; Mr. Bevins struck the bell with the bar the first round; I struck the second round; I should judge some four or five minutes elapsed after Mr. Bevins came from the window before I saw fire; then it was coming up from below, right under the cupola.

As to the origin of the fire, I have not the least knowledge about it; I could not say if the fire first came out at the base of the cupola.

I considered Mr. Bevins to be on that night perfectly sober--in fact I know he was.

The last fire on the roof was by the west chimney; it was amongst a lot of fire-work cases, as I am informed, called mines; I recollect seeing one or two fire-work bright balls of fire go off; it was at the time the cupola was just commencing to break out into flames; while we were putting out the fire on the roof I did not notice any full cases of fire-works not discharged.

gentleman was coming out at the door foot of the stairs, and I passed in as he came out; this was between half-past eight and a quarter of nine o'clock; I found Mr. Bevins in the look-out; he was alone; at about ten o'clock we discovered a fire among a lot of wood boxes and fire-work cases, by the chimney east side of the cupola; myself and Mr. Bevins went down and put out the fire with a bucket of water; we remained on the roof at that time not over fifteen or twenty minutes; while we were on the roof a call came up the speaking tube; Mr. Bevins left me to go and answer it; I did not hear his answer; I then returned to the look-out; I remained there until eleven o'clock; then I went home; at the time I left, Mr. Smith and Mr. Hilton were there; they came at about a quarter after ten o'clock; we had just put out the fire as they came; at the time I left the look-out I did not discover any indication of smoke, or smell of anything like wood burning; I came down stairs, and all appeared clear, and just as usual.

As to how the fire originated, I cannot say how it occurred; I have not the least knowledge about it.

(Taken from the Tribune of August 18th, 1858.)

BURNING OF THE CITY HALL.

The City Hall is now on fire, and the cupola is destroyed. The fire is going down, and has got into the Governor's room.

The firemen are hard at work, and probably the wings will be comparatively uninjured; but the centre of the building will be nearly ruined.

About two hours since, some of the men working on the Tribune saw a small fire on the roof, near the south side of the steeple. They ran over and put it out.

Subsequently another fire began on the other side of the steeple, and it is now raging furiously.

The bell-ringer had time only to ring one round before he was forced to quit his station, and he is now ringing with a small hammer.

The fire was undoubtedly caused by the illumination and shows the most criminal carelessness on the part of those who should have been watchful.

The bell at one o'clock rang for the Eighth, Seventh, Sixth and Fifth Districts, to get more help.

At half-past one o'clock a general alarm was sounded, which the bell-ringer was unable to give before, on account of the intensity of the flames.

At the same hour a portion of the cupola fell with a terrible crash, putting those in front of the building to flight. This diminished the height of the flames, and the firemen were better able to reach them.

Half-past two.—The upper story is almost entirely destroyed, and the basement is completely flooded with water. The Governor's room is much injured, as is also the offices adjoining.

The rooms of the Aldermen were also much injured by water. The Mayor's office escaped with slight damage.

The wings of the building escaped injury.

The City Hall was finished in 1811.

Mr. Taylor, the keeper of the Hall, and family were badly frightened, but their household goods were not greatly injured.

OPINION OF THE FIRE-MARSHAL.

NEW YORK, September, 1858.

To the Honorable, the Mayor and Committee of the Common Council, appointed to investigate into the origin of the City Hall Fire :

GENTLEMEN:—At a meeting of your Honorable Body, held on Friday the 24th September, instant, a resolution offered by His Honor the Mayor, was adopted, requesting me to give a written opinion as to the cause of the fire which destroyed a portion of the City Hall on the night of the 17th August, 1858.

In submitting my opinion to your Honorable Body, I deem it unnecessary to go into a minute narration of all the facts and circumstances of the matter now under your consideration—the detailed testimony being already before you—I shall, therefore, confine myself to such portions of the testimony as, in my belief, enables me to arrive at a just conclusion.

O P I N I O N .

It is shown, by sworn testimony, that, at the termination of the fire-work exhibition, the remnants of cases, boards and boxes were collected and piled together on the roof, close to the east and west chimneys, and water thrown upon them; that in about an hour afterwards a fire exhibited itself near the east chimney, when it was put out by Mr. Bevins, the bell-ringer. It is abundantly proven, that shortly after eleven o'clock, fire was again visible on the roof, in the vicinity of the west chimney, and it reflected a light against the cupola, and continued uninterrupted for three quarters of an hour at least, and apparently increasing in brilliancy up to within a few minutes of the alarm.

From the length of time the latter fire was seen to be burning on the roof without intermission, I am led to believe, from my experience, there was sufficient heat produced by the burning boxes and boards resting upon the copper roof and soldering to have fired the wood-work underneath it; the very combustible condition of the timbers under the copper, together with the ascending position of the frame-work, caused the fire to spread rapidly toward the base of the cupola; there its progress was stopped for a while, until the pressure of smoke and heat forced an opening in the plastered ceiling of the library-room; and at about the same time the flames burst forth at the base of the cupola. The appearance of the burnt timbers, together with the statement of witnesses who first discovered the fire, still further confirms me in my judgment.

There is no evidence, in my opinion, to warrant the hypothesis, that the burning owes its origin to the candles used for the illumination. On the contrary, it is evident that Mr. Corlies, Mr. Richardson, and others were particularly careful, and examined the rooms, leaving the premises in a safe condition.

In this particular they are fully corroborated by all the facts in the case.

Respectfully submitted,

A. G. BAKER,

Fire-Marshal.

$342 50

New York, May 15, 1858.

The above bill of work was all put in Firemans' Hall, as specified, and no payment has been made upon it, and the work was ordered to be done by the builder, who was connected with Mr. Giles, of the Fire Department, and who said the contract called for one of Janes, Beebe & Co.'s furnaces. After completion, the bill was handed to the Comptroller, who objected to pay it, as being above two hundred and fifty dollars; it should have been advertised. We did not know this at the time, or we should not have done the work without its having been first advertised, although by the specifications calling for our furnace, it could not have been furnished by any other parties. It was thus delayed until the latter part of 1856, when Mr. J. B. Smith was requested by the department to put the bill in the Tax Levy as arrears, which he promised to do, but neglected; it then remained until the latter part of 1857, when he again promised to put it in the Tax Levy as arrears, but which he again neglected to do; and thus we are deprived of getting our money, but hope the department will assist us in getting it.

Sir—I have to report on the enclosed bills of Albert J. Terhune, for glazing, amounting to $542 93.

It is almost impossible for me to make a satisfactory report on these bills. The work was done last year, and since that time may have all been broken out and put in again. If I inquire at the market, the answer I get is, that there was glazing done last fall or winter; no one knows how many panes of glass were put in, or who did the glazing.

I find that the bill against engine and hose houses correct as to the work having been done; also that the prices charged in all the bills are correct.

All of which I beg respectfully to submit.

Edward Cooper, Esq., Street Commissioner:

Sir—I have to report on the enclosed bills of R. Fitzpatrick, as follows:

Amount charged.....	$871 94
Do. allowed.....	632 26

Mr. Curtis and I examined and estimated on the gas fixtures, and I have allowed the same prices for the plumbing, that the department is now paying.

All of which I beg most respectfully to submit.

Your obedient servant,

JOHN B. COZZENS.

Corporation of the city of New York,

Bought of R. Fitzpatrick:

1858.

Gas fitting work in bell tower, Eighty-fifth st.

Jan'y 22, To 1 double swing heavy bracket, $3 50

One day, gas fitter and help..... 3 75

7 25

Entrance of City Hall, Governor's room.

Feb'y 13, To gas pipes, fittings, hooks, &c.. $7 50

Ordinance of the Common Council.

Jan'y 26, 45 feet gas pipes for street lamps $15 00

4 fittings at 2s..... 1 00

4 days, gas fitter and help, at

$3 75 ..... 15 00

Cartage, two lamp posts..... 2 00

Feb'y 6, 3 feet gas pipes, fittings, &c.... 1 50

2 days, gas fitter and help at $3 75 7 50

2 street lamps, front of church, at $12 50..... 25 00

2 stopcocks, burners, &c., at

$2 50 ..... 5 00

1 day, gas fitter and help..... 3 75

2 days, laborer digging and filling..... 3 00 78 75

Total..... $99 13

Approved, Charles Devlin, Street Commissioner.

	$264 00	$204 32

The above bills of gas work were examined and estimated on by Mr. Curtis, who will sell for the price above. It is customary to charge for gas pipe, at so much per foot put up; at 20 cents per cent. as above charged, it would include all the labor charged, except hanging the chandeliers. I see he has charged $18 for this.

Mr. Edward Cooper, Street Commissioner:

Enclosed you will find the bill of Richard Tweed, as follows:

	Amount charged.	Amount allowed.
Bill No. 1.....	$198 00	$148 00
“ 2.....	120 00	100 00
“ 3.....	144 00	22 00
	$462 00	$270 00

Bill No. 1 is for chairs furnished different engine and hose houses. I have put down the price at what I can buy the same for.

Bill No. 2, for chairs furnished the chamber and office of the Common Council, is correct. One office desk I have cut down, as Mr. Bogart will furnish the same for the price allowed.

Bill No. 3 I have allowed. R. Tweed furnished this office, but cut down the price. Also, $108 for chairs furnished the Street Commissioner's office, which I cannot allow, as there is not that number in the present office, nor were there that number under the City Hall when you took possession of the Street Department.

All of which I beg respectfully to submit.

J. B. COZZENS.

P. S. None of the above bills are certified to.

Mr. Townsend and I estimated on this bill. We could not find more than one hundred yards of carpet. W. R. Havens charges for one hundred and twenty-nine and one-quarter yards. He also charges for sixty-eight yards oil cloth; we could only find fifty-five yards received from him.

From the examination made by Mr. Townsend and myself, we think that a deduction of twenty-five per cent. would be just on his bills.

Requisition signed Robt. H. Lamont, for the within-mentioned articles.

Mr. Curtis and I have examined and estimated on the above bills, and have made this award. The two last bills, (Bureau of Repairs and Supplies), I can give no information as to delivery, but have allowed the goods were delivered, and put the prices at what I can buy the same articles at retail.

All of which I beg respectfully to submit,

Your obedient servant,

Repairing 11 dozen police lamps	16 50	16 50
Total . . . . .	$118 50	$79 50

I have examined the above bill. I can buy the tin cups and lanterns at the above prices, but cannot say as to the repairs on police lamps; I think this charge a fraud, but have allowed it in the above award. As to the delivery, I find a lot of tin cups at No. 74 Ludlow street, on store; this is all the information, except Mr. Lemont's certificate, I have got.

Mr. Curtis and I have examined and estimated on this bill, and find that the work has not all been done, nor the articles all furnished. Mr. C. has allowed the above prices for the goods furnished.

I would respectfully suggest that the captains of police stations are ordered to keep an account of all the goods furnished by the Corporation, and from whom they come; also, all the work done, who did it, and if well done. It is now almost impossible to find out who did the work that the bills I have under examination call for.

SIR:—I have to report on the bill of E. Green, for services. All the information is contained in the following letter of Mr. William Allen, June 25, 1858, as follows:

I find on examination of bill of E. Green, that he held no letter of appointment under either of the claimants of the Street Commissioner's office who preceded you, but that in the pay-roll of Mr. Conover, Green was put down as Fifth Clerk, and paid by the Comptroller as General Clerk, one thousand dollars per year. I also find that the last work he did at this office was May 5th; also that he has not been here since May 6th; that for services as General Clerk in Street Department he was paid in full to May 1st, last. (See voucher No. 3,337, on file in the Comptroller's office.) From this it will appear that he has no claim beyond the time served in May, viz: five or six days.

For resetting curb and gutter, filling in sidewalk and flagging, furnishing gravel for the same—11th avenue, between 46th and 45th streets.....$43 50

I have inspected the above work, and cannot allow more than.....$20 00

This is paying him more than it is worth, in my opinion. I can see what has been done, and think the above award just.

ISAAC G. SEIXAS,

Commissioner of Deeds.

New York, Nov. 13, 1858.

EDWARD COOPER, Esq., Street Commissioner;

Sir—I have to report on the foregoing bills of James L. Van Wart. I do not find that all the work the bills call for has been done, and where I find it done it is charged fifty per cent. more than it should be. I would respectfully recommend a deduction of fifty per cent. on these bills as follows:

	Amount charged.	Amount allowed.
Bill No. 1.....	$77 00	Less 50 per cent. dis.
“ 1.....	110 00	do
“ 2.....	110 00	do
“ 3.....	75 00	do
“ 3.....	90 00	do
Totals.....	$462 00	$231 00

The bills are not certified to by either of the Street Commissioners nor by the Inspector of Sidewalks.

Your obedient servant,

JOHN B. COZZENS.

New York, Nov. 3d, 1858.

Edward Cooper, Esq., Street Commissioner;

Sir—I have to report on the enclosed bills of Messrs. Wainwright, Sayre & Co., as follows:

I cannot make a satisfactory report on the above bills. I have allowed the prices fixed by the persons I employed to estimate on the goods now in store at No. 74 Ludlow street. In examining the bills of Messrs. Wainwright, Sayre & Co., and comparing them with the receipts enclosed, I have come to the conclusion that not more than one half were delivered. For instance, one bill calls for 27 fancy water coolers—the receipt is for 48. There are 42 dozen of spittoons charged in these bills; also, 2,000 feet of hose in mid winter for street washing. I do not find more than 600 at No. 74 Ludlow street; also hardware, soap, dry goods, crockery, glass, oil, &c., all not belonging to his proper business.

All of which I beg respectfully to submit.

Your obedient servant,

(Copy.)

New York, May 28, 1858.

The Mayor, &c., of the city of New York,

To Edward Merritt, Dr:

To services as Inspector of Sidewalks, from November 17, 1857, to April 24, 1858, at one hundred dollars per month..... $520 00

Edward Cooper, Esq:

Mr. Merritt was appointed to the office of Inspector of Sidewalks, January 14, 1856, by Joseph S. Taylor, and continued to perform the duties of that office until April, 24th, 1858.

He was never legally removed until April 24th last, when he was notified of his removal by Street Commissioner Cooper.

His salary has been paid up to November 17th, 1857, and he claims the balance.

Please advise what, if any, action is taken upon the claim by your department.

Yours, &c.,

LELAND SQUIRES,

Counsel for Merritt.

New York, Oct. 19, 1858.

Edward Cooper, Esq.,

Street Commissioner:

Sir—Enclosed you will find claim of Mr. Edward Merritt, as Inspector of Sidewalks, amounting to $520.

I find in letter book H, now in the Street Commissioner's office, page 167, his discharge July 2d, 1857, by Mr. Devlin. I also find in letter book I, in Street Commissioner's office, his discharge Nov. 17th, 1857, page 89, by D. D. Conover.

I would respectfully recommend not to pay the above claim.

Your obedient servant,

JOHN B. COZZENS.

New York, Nov. 26, 1858.

Gustavus W. Smith, Esq.,

Street Commissioner:

Sir—I have to report on the bills of John H. Van Tassell. Rejected resolution authorizing work was passed April 22d, 1857. He only claims pay before April 27th, 1857. The appointment to Morton street is written in a different hand subsequent.

Resolution did not authorize an Inspector. Also no contract was made.

Your obedient servant,

JOHN B. COZZENS.

New York, June 12, 1858.

Mr. E. Cooper:

Sir—The accompanying bill of Daniel McGinn for payment as Inspector on Seventy-ninth street, between Broadway and Hudson river, is herewith returned. McGinn was paid by return judgment, Oct. 10, 1857 $187 87 J. P. McGinn was paid by judgment on Dec. 2,

1857.....	176 53
W. Tuine was paid on the 27th of Oct. 1857...	270 00

By records of this office Mr. Tuine appears to be the proper Inspector, and has duly made his reports as such. The ordinance authoring the work gives power to appoint an Inspector. I would not recommend the payment of McGinn's bill.

Your obedient servant,

M. LOVELL.

PETER H. DRYER.

Sworn before me, this 17th day of June, 1858.

WM. H. MACKAY, Commis'r of Deeds.

New York, November 19, 1858.

Edward Cooper, Esq.,

Street Commissioner:

Sir--Enclosed you will find claim of P. H. Dreyer for surveying, laying iron pavement in Courtland street, amounting to.....$108 00

I can get no more information in regard to this claim than the enclosed letter of M. Lovell contains. I find that there are no books at the office of the Superintendent of Repairs and Supplies left by the former Superintendent, so that I cannot find if he was appointed or discharged.

. All of which I beg respectfully to submit.

Your obedient servant,

JOHN B. COZZENS.

P. S. I understand that P. H. Dreyer was employed by the contractors on this work.

New York, December 27, 1858.

Gustavus W. Smith, Esq., St. Com.:

Sir—I have to report on the following bills that I have examined since I made my report, December 10, 1858:

Bill of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce:

For advertising; I find these bills correct, and would respectfully recommend payment..... $18 30

Bills of James Smith:

For repairs done engine and hose carriages, &c.

I find that Mr. Edward Cooper had these bills examined last summer; also, Mr. James Smith was paid a part on account by the Comptroller. Mr. S. is now doing the same kind of work for the Fire Department at the prices charged in these bills; the bills are all certified by the proper authority; I beg respectfully to recommend payment.

Bills amount to.....$8,468 31

Cr. by cash on account..... 4,186 70 4,281 61

Carried forward..... $4,299 91

Brought forward.....$4.299 91

Also, bills rendered for work ordered and nearly complete, on the 1st day of May last—work which was suspended, but afterwards completed.. 795 00

Bill of Campbell & Moody:

For lumber, &c. I can get no information as to the delivery of goods. From enquiries, I find the gentlemen of this firm bear a high character. I beg respectfully to recommend payment..... 325 47

Bills of Torbos & Co:

Three bills; two not certified by Mr. H. Howard, Chief of the Fire Department.

The bill amounting to..... 1,086 25

Is certified by Mr. Howard; the Comptroller has paid $1,200 on this bill all below $75; the above is for bills over $75.

Bill for building new hose carriage No. 54..... 300 00

Mr. Howard did not approve the bill; but I find that the city has had the hose carriage in use. It has been repeatedly repaired. I respectfully recommend payment.

Building new tender for hose company No. 56.

Am't charged. Am't allowed.

$75 00..Not all'd.

Repairing engine No. 20..... 10 50.....$10 50

Cutting and setting teirs..... 3 00..... 3 00

Fire butts..... 2 50..... 2 50 16 00

Carried forward..... $6,822 63

Brought forward . . . . . $6,822 63

I understand that Mr. Torbos & Co. sold out to A. Van Ness & Co., and that Messrs. A. Van Ness & Co. have been paid for horse carriage No. 56. I have not allowed it in the above award.

Bill of C. L. Purdy:

For balance of contract for carpenter's work on No. 33 engine; also, extra work ordered by Benjamin Fairchild, as I am informed by Mr. Howard. This work has been done. I beg respectfully to recommend payment . . . . . 292 53

Bill of M. Morrison:

For putting on new tin roof on hook and ladder house No. 13. I find this work done; charges fair. I beg respectfully to recommend payment . . . . . 124 69

I have to make the following supplementary report on road bills; part fourth of my report made December 10, 1858.

Bills for work done on roads with horse and cart:

Martin Dally, do . . . . .	232 50
Michael McGuire, do . . . . .	231 75
John O'Keefe, paid by Comptroller . . . . .	230 25
Patrick Kenney, do . . . . .	243 00

The above are on pay roll sent from the Comptroller's office, and have not all been paid; there are two other men on the same roll that have received their money. The roll is certified by Wm. Goodheart and D. D. Conover.

Carried forward . . . . . $8,177 35

Brought forward.....$8,177 35

This is all the information I can get, as to the work having been done. These bills will add $937 50 more to add to the bills certified by Wm. Goodheart.

Total.....$8,177 35

All of which I beg respectfully to submit,

Your obedient servant,

Copy.

J. B. COZZENS.

SIR:—I have to report on the above bills. The Comptroller paid, last June, Messrs. Torboss & Co., one thousand two hundred and twenty-two dollars, on all their bills under seventy-five dollars, but did not pay the above. The Chief Engineer has certified to all the bills.

The last bill (engine company No. 17), I do not find on file in Comptroller's office. But inquired at Chief Engineer's office, and found to be correct.

I beg respectfully to recommend payment.
